

ASD-STAN Intellectual Property and Copyright Policy

Document Reference: 2.3013 (Version 2nd October 2018)

General

Intellectual property is ASD-STAN's most valuable asset. It is the responsibility of all those involved with ASD-STAN to protect these assets and insure that they are used in accordance with this Policy.

Deliverables and Copyrights

ASD-STAN owns and maintains the rights to its Intellectual Property on any material created by ASD-STAN, its employee or created on behalf of ASD-STAN by its members, bodies or working groups. ASD-STAN shall be considered the sole owner of any works or deliverables created by any ASD-STAN working group, meeting, discussion, including but not limited to reports, minutes, technical specifications, processes, publications, etc.

ASD-STAN reserves the right to copyright any of its publications by print, electronic products, metadata, databases and any other deliverables and subject matter covered by Copyright Law. This does not affect the common copyright on EN publications with CEN.

This is intended to protect ASD-STAN and its members from unauthorized copying, networking and distribution of ASD-STAN Intellectual Property.

By participating in any ASD-STAN Project Teams and/or participating in the creation and adoption of ASD-STAN's Intellectual Property, members of Project Teams acknowledge that the copyright to such property resides with ASD-STAN. Such members of Project Teams agree, if necessary, to execute any and/or all documents deemed necessary or appropriate by ASD-STAN to transfer and effectuate ownership of all such rights, including but not limited to copyrights, they may have in ASD-STAN Intellectual Property. Individuals who participate in ASD-STAN working groups, bodies and related activities agree to not distribute any ASD-STAN documents outside ASD-STAN if not authorized or foreseen in the ASD-STAN standardization process.

Members of Project Teams have to ensure that their contribution to the work of ASD-STAN do not harm any Intellectual Property held by third parties. If such an entry is necessary for the ASD-STAN document, the ASD-STAN administration shall be contacted to get a written permission from the right holder prior any use of third party text, even in draft documents.

Individuals who participate in ASD-STAN Working Groups and related activities may, from time to time, where appropriate, be required to sign an agreement (see Annex E – Copyright statement Attendance list ASD-STAN) acknowledging the transfer of any rights in ASD-STAN Intellectual Property to ASD-STAN and CEN. The rights granted to ASD-STAN by this assignment shall belong to ASD-STAN in perpetuity.

It is ASD-STAN policy that the copyrights and other intellectual property rights of third parties be respected and not infringed by ASD-STAN or any of its Project Teams, or any employee, member or other person acting on behalf of ASD-STAN.

Electronic Networks: Copyright Law provides copyright protection for certain works fixed in any tangible medium of expression, now or later developed, from which they can be perceived, reproduced or otherwise communicated, either directly or with the aid of technology. Therefore, inputting, uploading, downloading, reproducing, or transmitting ASD-STAN Intellectual Property without ASD-STAN's prior written permission is prohibited.
